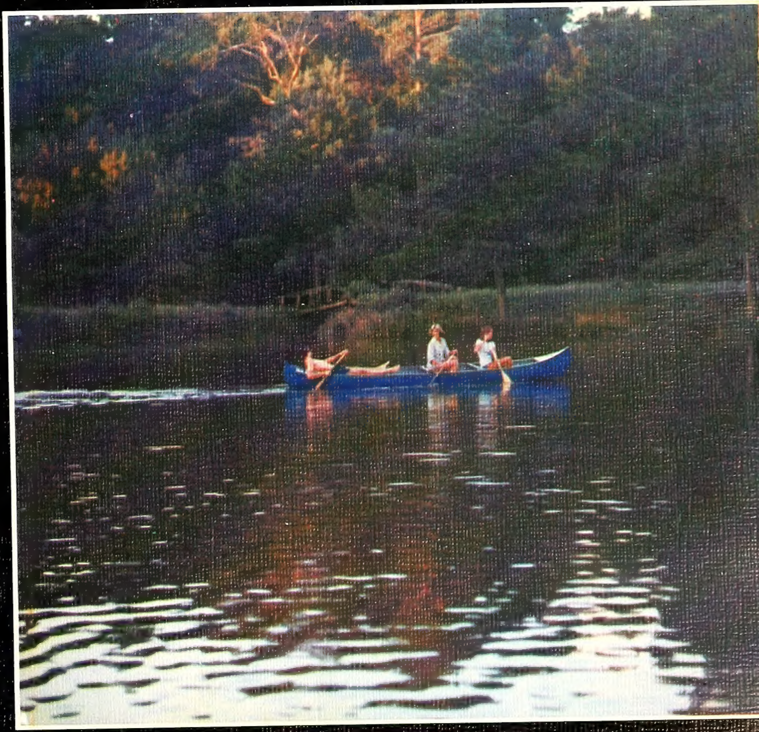
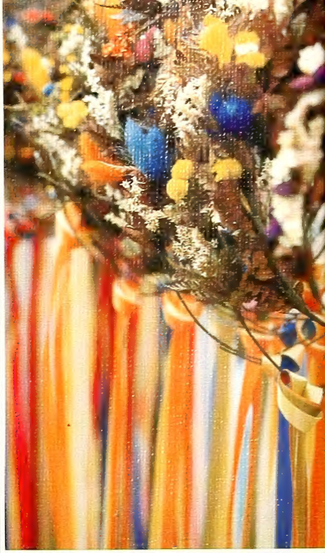
With a flicker and a flash, the 1977-78 school year burst into flame as we lit the fire of hope and new beginnings. The spirit and warmth of Conroe High School gave us the courage to laugh, to love, and to live life to the best of our abilities.





A year full of unforgettable memories; this was our year at CHS. Pep rallies, football games, hall decorations, and finally graduation made each day at Conroe High distinctive. We each carry within us the burning torch of Conroe evident to those who have known the closeness of being #1.

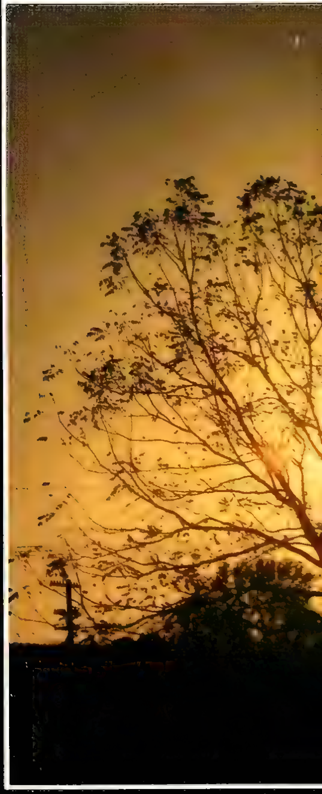
"Tradition — we've got a lot of it behind us. But that's what makes us so great. It's really important to a school like ours."
J. T. Montgomery
Principal of
Conroe High School

Many changes have occurred since 1932 when Conroe was a small high school and 1978 when student enrollment stretched to a staggering 3,570. The traditions of yesterday are deeply rooted in the activities of today. Conroe has grown from a small oil town to a bustling city. But one thing has not changed. The people of Conroe, old and young alike, still feel the burning pride of togetherness. The torch's eternal flame represents the long-standing sense of pride felt by all of those who have been a part of Conroe High.

History of the Flare

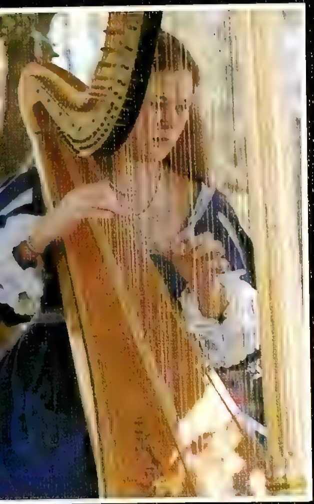
With the discovery of oil in Conroe came the legendary Flare. When oil was discovered in 1931, the excess natural gas was burned in huge torches, the largest being the Conroe Flare. This flare could be seen for miles. In 1932, the students of Conroe High voted to rename their yearbook The FLARE. It had previously been known as the LIL TIGER and the BLUEBONNET. The torch is now extinguished but its memory lives on from year to year in this book.

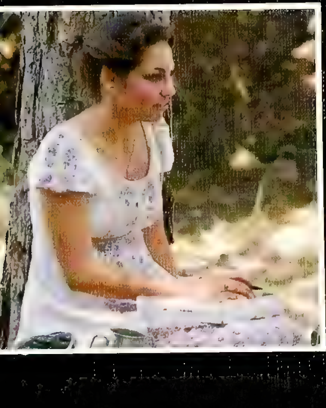
NTY COURTHOUSE



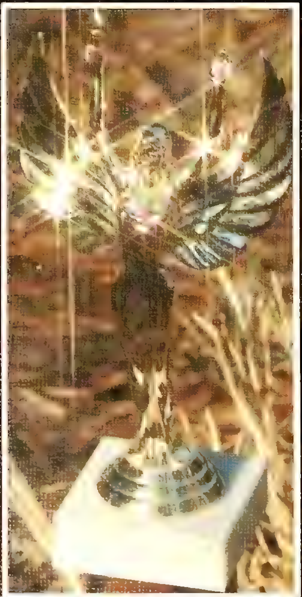
Through the light of the flare, we have gained new insight into the true beauty of our everyday world. The splendor of the moon and the silhouetted sun are there, if only we take the time to be aware of them. Simple things, such as a flower or sunset, are sometimes the keys by which we understand our own desires and dreams.

Because of the unity at CHS, each individual finds the strength and inspiration to be himself. We may find peace in the music of a harp, excitement in a pep rally, or serenity in being alone. As individuals we are unique, yet as a whole we are an alliance, people joining together to form a bond of closeness associated with Conroe High.





Our overwhelming spirit lights the way to the path of victory we so often follow. Because of the hard work and effort we put into each endeavor, we always come out # 1. The flash of energy as the spirit stick is brought to each class; the glow of victory as the Tigers beat Tyler 34-0; the radiance of a great halftime show; all light the way to that number one position. Students hold the warmth of pride within their heart so that no matter where we go in life we will always be loyal to Conroe High.



ROBBIE

We may not know what lies ahead, but the friendships acquired in high school enable us to look to each day with new meaning. Friendships last a lifetime, as do the unending memories of CHS. A day in the park or a prayer after a hard fought game can strengthen the ties among friends. Now that we have each other, let's not let go.

"You are my love and my life,
You are my inspiration.
Just you 'n' me,
Simple and free,
You are everything I've ever dreamed of . . . ."

Young Life combines skits, skiis and scripture

Young Life has taken quite a hold in Conroe this year and some changes were seen. Some of these included a new sponsor, Tom Scarborough, and meeting in homes for a warmer atmosphere. Young Life continued to provide singing, skits, activities and trips, including an annual ski trip to Colorado. Each was projected in a Christian environment and allowed students to evaluate themselves more closely while considering the aspects of Christianity.

"Who Are the Tigers?"

Hearing the words "pep rally" meant more to CHS students than just popular yells. These words also sparked a feeling of competition mixed with school loyalty. The Senior class ruled the pep rallies with stiff races from Junior party horns and Freshman and Sophomore signs. The Homecoming pep rally was taken by the eager Freshmen while each class pushed its hall theme into the competition. Deep pride was taken by the band, Golden Girls and twirlers in everything they gave to these spirited rallies. Waving high their #1's, pointing towards the state championship, students, faculty and others who attended answered with, "We are the Tigers."

Paint Parties "Pep-per" 77 Season

Splashes of paint added the spice to '77 spirit. Each class gathered weekly at paint parties to prepare their illustrations for Friday morning pep rallies. This year's preparations included colorful ideas displaying each class's originality and effort. In keeping with tradition, students painted each other, raided lower classmen's parties and got acquainted with other students. The mixture of original ideas and artistic abilities accented '77 paint parties.

(Far above) Freshmen, Jamie Maddox, Chuck Gstol and Jeff Pace showed their artistic talent at hall competition as well as at the paint parties. Win, lose, or tie . . . Conroe Tigers never die

In winning all their district games, including the most important one to Cy-Fair, the Conroe Tigers retained their well-earned reputation, many times disproving predictions of football critics and rankings. As in years before, many fans turned out to support the Tigers at away games as well as home games. Conroe Tiger Stadium was filled to overflowing with many of the loyal backers. Despite a heartbreaking loss to Plano, the Tigers and their coaches pointed their #1's at a great bi-district win over Temple. Not even bad weather could dampen Tiger spirit, for it never dies — win, lose or tie.

Hall decorations: inspiration, preparation and anticipation

Hall decorations roused additional enthusiasm and involvement from the student body in the Homecoming class competition. The imaginative, clever exhibits resulted from much planning fused with dedicated sponsors and student council members. The entire contest came to a climax at the Homecoming pep rally when Mr. Winn approached the microphone to announce that the Juniors received first place for their Walt Disney display.

Now that's a "Tiger Boogie!"

After a 9-3 season, the Conroe Tigers and their backers boogied at Victory dances after home games. "J.R. Brass" and "Rio" played at many of these dances held at the Y.M.C.A. gym. Highlighting the year, Hudson and Harrigan, KILT disc jockies, hosted a disco dance for CHS students. There was a great response and turnout at these dances as students rejoiced over the Tigers' many victories.

Homecoming '77 competition and tradition

Amidst the ringing of tiny cowbells and the roar of an excited crowd, Betsy Ford was crowned the 1977 Homecoming Queen. The eight beautiful candidates were escorted by their fathers and the Exes Queen, Mrs. Geraldine Oualline, was escorted by Mr. Freddy Greer. Jim Grigsby, the student body president presented Betsy a bouquet of roses along with the traditional kiss. Each candidate left the field with a single red rose given to them by Lisa Adams, the 1976 Queen.

Money For the Beginning

"Everything must start somewhere," and "Money doesn't grow on trees," seemed quite appropriate mottos for the class of '81 during their candy sale. With a total of $6000, Freshmen proudly looked forward to upcoming years and challenged the class below. Vicki Rumfield, leading salesperson, received $50. Encouragement and support from teachers and fellow students allowed these Freshmen to add to their treasury. Full of chocolate, the class members planted their own money tree and made a start in the beginning of four years of CHS fun and pride.

Money For the End

Under the leadership of their sponsor, Kay Weise, and class president, Binky Ford, and other officers, Juniors combed the streets of Conroe selling magazines. After seven long, hard days the Junior dream of $79,000 finally came true. Four class members flew to Colorado to ski, while Lisa Budd, top salesman, accepted a radio-T.V. as a prize. To the surprise of everyone, including Mr. White, magazine representative, Juniors gleamed at Seniors with a "HA-HA" attitude. The hard-earned money paved the way for the end of school life for the Juniors, and the 1978 prom proved that all the hard work was worth it.

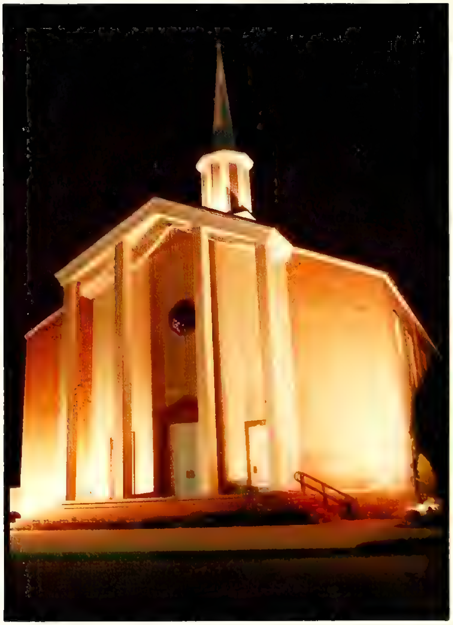
A CHS Christmas is special. A look at Christmas 1977 pictured a spirit of enthusiasm as students participated in the serious as well as the festive seasonal occasions. Helping to decorate the joyous times were scenes around the community. From attending parties to helping those less fortunate than themselves, students at CHS exemplified the extra special feelings which make the CHS Christmas one to be remembered.



1977

RED AND WRINKLED GOD

Curious eyes in grisly beards
A few bushy eyebrows
Knotted in skepticism
Gape with naive
Ignorant air
Of the lambs on their shoulders.
And you, the red and wrinkled God
Stare back with baby eyes
From your throne of straw.
When someone smelling of goat
Timidly stretches forth
An awed hand
That will nail you to a splintered
board,
You clasp
One gnarled finger
In your baby hands
And hold it on your heart.

CHS clubs package Christmas spirit

Good tidings of the Christmas spirit inspired club activities at CHS. Students decorated their holiday season with the glitter of cheer and kind deeds. Each club glistened as they gathered to participate in celebrations and preparations of events. A warm glow shone as the Medical Careers Club members assisted the needy and the French Club sang carols for residents at the Autumn Hills Convalescent Center. Various club activities reflected a joyful atmosphere as clubs held parties, banquets and went carolling. The CHS organizations captured an exciting Christmas spirit and wrapped it in many shining memories.

The FLARE Staff Presents 'A Night With the Stars'

Lights! Camera! Action! Hollywood was the theme of the 1978 Coronation as the FLARE Staff presented "A Night with the Stars." Sharon Place, representing Psychology Club, was the main star as she was crowned the 1978 FLARE Queen. She was entertained by a "Pas de Deux" performed by Cindy Hayward and Tarrance Karns, and serenaded by troubadour Elmer Gipson, singing "Evergreen." She was honored at the reception, following the Coronation, which was held at Sacred Heart where J. R. Brass played a variety of music.

Student Council stimulates student involvement

Through active involvement in the problems and cares of the CHS student body, the Student Council proved that students could work out their own problems with careful thought and planned effort. Among the varied activities sponsored for CHS students by the Council was the annual Book Fair held November 29 to December 6. The money raised helped defray expenses of the Council. There was also the annual Talent Show in which all students were welcomed to take part. In order to boost school spirit, the Council sponsored two activities for students to show their spirit. One was Clash Day, held the day the Tiger varsity football team played Cy-Fair. Students were urged to wear the clothes that clashed the worst to parallel the way the Tigers would "clash" with the Bobcats. Another was Overall Spirit Day, when Conroe played Temple for bi-district honors. All students were urged to wear overalls to show their "overall" spirit. One of the more controversial and serious subjects considered by the Council was over the possible changing of the name of the school stadium. This subject was temporarily delayed pending further information and discussion.

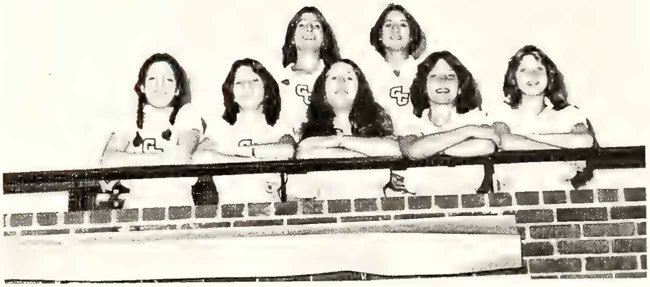
Working overtime; sparkling halftime



In past years, the Golden Girls have been well known for their spectacular dance and drill routines during halftime activities at the Tiger football games. This year however, they really had something to be proud of. A noticeable change in the quality of their halftime performances brought recognition to the 1978 Golden Girls from CHS and all Conroe football fans.

Several factors can be attributed to their success, one of which was the decrease in the number of members. Only half as many girls were allowed to perform at halftime with each girl having to try out for her field position each week. Every week, the lieutenants of each company would review the performance of the past week and teach a new routine for the following football game. Working towards the goal of performing at the Friday night football game kept each Golden Girl striving to do her best.

One of the newer additions to the Golden Girls was the formation of Company D, the Freshman Golden Girls. This addition proved to be an advantage because it required them to have at least one year's experience before actually performing with the rest of the drill team. However, Company D created their own routines to perform during basketball season, as did the rest of the Golden Girls.

The newly formed Tiger Pages Library Club, affiliated with the Teenage Library Association of Texas, was created for students dedicated to bettering library services. The twenty-two members worked in the library in all phases of service to CHS students and faculty: book circulation, equipment circulation and repair, overdue file upkeep, media shelving and school activity scrapbook organization.

In October, representatives attended the District IX T.A.L.A. Convention held in Spring, Texas. Several members met with a media selection committee at the Houston I.S.D. Media Exhibit to discuss equipment recommended for the library. Tiger Pages members also helped the Student Council host the annual book fair held in November. Concluding the year for the Library Club was a trip to the State T.A.L.A. Convention in San Antonio.

Small engine maintenance featured by Marine Repair

Fixing motors for boats was only one of the many activities relating to the Marine Repair club. Members tackled repair on small gas engines ranging from mowers to motorcycles, while keeping in mind their important contests coming up during the year. Safe and proper usage of tools and equipment as well as the development of mechanical skills was stressed by club sponsor, Charles Hays.

Recycling aluminum cans, picked up from the CHS school grounds, was the main fund raising project for Marine Repair this year. Not only did this project benefit the club, but the campus remained cleaner as a result of their efforts.

The 1978

Flare Staff

To the Student Body and Faculty:

Creating any exceptional yearbook involves a tremendous amount of sacrifice from everyone involved, but the reward of seeing this completed yearbook, the 1978 Flare, has made it all worthwhile. Sometimes, when things weren't going just right, it seemed as though we would never be able to complete the Flare. The going was never easy. However, as a result of these rough times, we became closer as a staff and as friends. We know that this feeling among us helped in producing this yearbook for you, the Student Body and Faculty of CHS.

Capturing memories and events during our high school years is the purpose in producing a yearbook. Enough thanks can't be given to those who offered their cooperation and support in helping us achieve this goal. We never would have made it without you.

It's hard to describe what motivates us to continue working when we had so many other things to do. But we feel that our sponsor, Ms. Mary Beth Hall, played a large part in this motivation. Somehow she managed to give each one of us individual attention and still keep her sanity at the same time — barely. Although it didn't seem like it at times — we loved her like a momma and still do. And, of course, there's our 'ol editor, Aileen Ussery. Her understanding and caring attitude kept us together when we were getting depressed and discouraged. A large part of herself went into the making of this yearbook.

We hope, in twenty years from now when you go back to your 1978 Flare to reflect on the good 'ol days at CHS, that you'll remember the love that went into creating it!

Sincerely,
The 1978 Flare Staff

Spirit reaches the top

There is more to a pep squad than just spirit as the 1977-78 Tiger Paws soon learned. Even though yelling comes naturally to most, the fifty-six members practiced third and fourth period everyday to achieve perfection and unity in the group. Under the leadership of their new sponsor, Mrs. Cotton, the girls learned cheers and routines. The officers, Gina Coleman — Major, Kathy Escalera — Captain, Marie Fulgham — Reporter, and Debbie Jett — Secretary-Treasurer, performed at pep rallies throughout the football season, while the entire pep squad performed at the football and basketball games. As fund raising projects, the Tigers Paws sold key chains, ribbons and bumper stickers.

Child Care leads the way for young minds

Dolls, books, merry-go-rounds and toy trains were the main tools used by Child Care Club members this year. Each student worked with the children to help them understand the importance of cooperating with others. Social workers, nurses and child care aids came and spoke to the girls on new techniques in their field. The members gained satisfaction in their work by helping the children to gain knowledge while enjoying life.

"We band together!"

Pep rallies, football games and graduation just would not have been the same without the enthusiasm of the CHS band. Underlying the dazzling performances and a first division at marching contest were hard work, time and diligent practice which all made the band a great success in the '77-'78 season. For the first time, the band attended a music festival, under the direction of Mr. Ron Wright, held at Six Flags. This trip was made possible through the sale of jar containers and the traditional calendar sale.

An induction into destiny

One of the greatest awards any CHS student can receive during his senior year is induction into the National Honor Society. Scholarship, leadership, character and service, as well as the ability to get along with others, were considered before a student could be admitted into NHS. The top twenty per cent of the senior class was admitted: fifteen percent at the end of their junior year and the remaining five per cent at the beginning of their senior year. Mr. Winn and Mr. Ray, the sponsors, aided in the ceremony.

Under the leadership of President Larry Brunson and Vice-President Bruce McDonald, the club planned their activities for the 1977-1978 school year. In addition to the traditional Christmas party and dinner theatre in the spring, a car wash in November and a skit in Club Wars were among the fun-filled activities of N.H.S. members.

Art Club probes wide spectrum of talent

Boasting their largest membership ever, Art Club members participated in a number of activities during the '78 school year. According to President Robert Acrey, "We've had more cooperation and participation from members this year than in past years."

Art Club members proved that "art" includes much more than painting by competing in Club Wars in October. Considering this one of the highlights of their year, members choreographed a Kaleidoscope dance routine which earned them a second place. Also in October, members painted a mural, based on Halloween, in the Children's section of the County Library.

Yearly activities of the Art Club included a Van painting contest in November, the Scholastic Art Show in January, competition in the Houston Livestock Art Show in February, and the CHS Art Show in May.

Data Processing programs students for computerized world

Adapting to a computerized world is difficult for some people; however, Data Processing students not only adjusted to this environment, but improved their skills in computer technology as well. Classroom instruction ranged from programming and organization to the actual operation of a computer. Outside instruction included field trips to various computer centers around Conroe and Area and State competition in March.

All activities of Data Processing did not focus on Computer Science. Members delivered treats to local hospitals during Halloween and adopted a needy family for the Thanksgiving holidays. Concluding the year for Date Processing students was a swimming party and picnic for members and their guests.

A golden year for FFA

This was a special year for the FFA, as they celebrated their golden anniversary.

Created in 1927, the FFA still continued to stress thrift and scholarship among its members in their various areas of interest. There were a variety of activities in which members participated. Among these were skill teams, such as the FFA Quiz team, Farm Skills team, Radio team, Talent team, and Chapter Conducting team. There was a public speaking contest for demonstration of individual skills. Members judged in contests and exhibited livestock at several Texas shows. The FFA helped the Lion's Club raise money for the blind. In order to raise money for their annual awards banquet, scholarships, team entry fees, and activities, the FFA sold citrus fruit and held a skating party in the fall. Through these activities, FFA developed competent, aggressive leadership, strengthened the confidence of members in themselves and their work, developed character and incentive, fostered patriotism, and trained students in citizenship.

Industrial Arts' experience benefits CHS and community

By performing repair services in and around the school and community, the Industrial Arts Club became a valuable asset to CHS. Their services not only benefited the school, but themselves as well because of the experience they gained from doing repair work. Field trips to several industries and participation in Regional and State competition helped in providing the necessary training required in Industrial Arts.

Although a tremendous amount of work was required to be a member, Industrial Arts emphasized outside activities. The Industrial Arts Fair in April and a banquet and awards night near the end of the year were just a few of the activities planned for club members.

The 1977-1978 Triumph Staff

Triumph Staff Shares Smiles, Tears and Deadlines

What was it like being on the Triumph Staff? Well it meant hearing pens scratch and typewriters being pounded far into the night. It meant missing Friday night games to sell programs to the excited fans of both football teams. It also meant much hard work and a lot of fun. Staffers presented nine issues of The Triumph plus a special Senior Wills edition for the benefit of students and teachers. The newspaper covered current events as well as activities and ideas at CHS. Staffers took a break from their journalism activities long enough to play a Triumph-Flare Staff football game which ended in a tie thanks to the efforts of players like "Bulldog" Begin and "Mad Dog" Manzo. Activities such as these helped to break the tense atmosphere of Triumph Staff's never ending deadlines.

Literary magazine focuses on student talents

The TROIKA, CHS's new literary magazine, entered its first year as a school communications media. Troika, a chariot pulled by three horses which carries the free man's soul to the land of eternal happiness and joy, seemed to be the perfect title for the literary magazine since its purpose was to present poetry of students inner feelings of happiness. Besides the TROIKA, which came out in May, the staff produced three subissues: FREEWIND, the first publication; CANTO, the Christmas issue; and ENCORE, which came out in February. Each issue was comprised of writings of CHS students.

The TROIKA staff, supervised by Sponsor Mrs. Kay Weise, Editor Lisa Shepherd and Assistant Editor Cindy Sterling, worked vigorously during their first year of establishment. They met undiscovered hardships and difficulties along the pathway to the creation of the new school magazine, but working as a group, the staff soon learned to overcome these obstacles.

Music Makers Mark '77 Year of Song

Choir members experienced the butterflies of publicly performing several times throughout the year. The Christmas program ushered in the holidays and their carolling trip to a nearby convalescent center helped to brighten the Christmas season for many residents. Popular music was featured in the Spring concert along with a special tribute to Mr. Montgomery. Much to the delight of the students and teachers of CHS, Choir members sold jars of candy as a fund raising project. They also held a bazaar and carnival at North Hills Shopping Center. The CHS Choral Department also participated in the UIL competition and placed members in district, regional, area, and state positions.

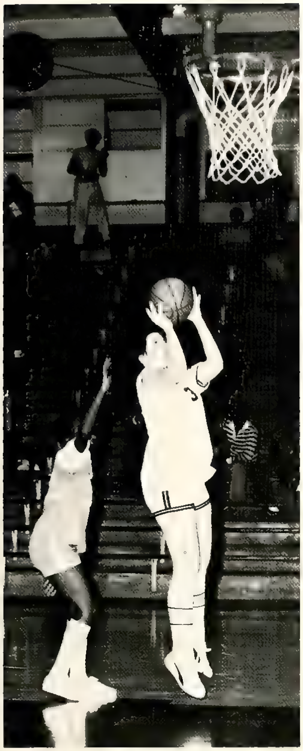
Tigerettes increase stamina



Tigerette members competed in varsity sports events in golf, tennis, swimming, track, basketball, and volleyball. These girls, represented their school with outstanding performances in each of their respective sports. However, they spent many long, hot hours of practice to become the athletes they are. Their hard work spoke for itself in their excellent season record.

Drafting students design productive plans

Members of the Vocational Drafting Club not only worked toward placing first at contest in building plans and speed/skill competitions, but also designed a house which was constructed in Artesian Forrest by the Building Trades club. Skating parties and a formal dinner banquet highlighted the club's activities. A stereo system was purchased by the members through funds raised by the daily coke sale during class breaks.

Psychology Club studies greatest mystery: the human mind

Human thought. It has always been a mystery to man. However, the CHS Psychology department attempted to understand this mystery by studying human emotions and what affects them through a variety of outside activities this year. Members visited the Sam Houston Psychology and Education Department in Huntsville, and toured the Texas Department of Corrections as well. Guest speakers were also invited to several Psychology Club meetings to provide information on a possible career in Psychology. An ice skating party during the Christmas holidays and a barbeque in the spring concluded the year for the Psychology Club.

Survival in the woods: a way of life for the Wilderness Club

Forest rangers or sheriffs' posses usually perform the duties of rescuing lost souls from the woods. Right? Wrong! Wilderness Club members organized their own search party and located two campers lost in Sam Houston State Forest on one of their many weekend camping trips this past year! This type of situation was fairly common to all members of the Wilderness Club since the majority of their activities centered on hiking and basically, learning the ways of the woods. Several weekend campouts to area forests provided the training necessary for survival in wilderness conditions. Members put this knowledge to work as they backpacked in the Colorado Rockies for two weeks this past summer and canoed in East Texas during the spring. Tentative plans for a camping trip to the Ouachita Forest in Arkansas were also discussed during the school year. A better understanding of the ecology of their environment resulted from the activities of the Wilderness Club members.

Cosmetology Club gains customers with quality work

Many Conroe residents became regular customers of the CHS Cosmetology Department this year. Not only were they satisfied with their haircuts, customers appreciated the free cost as well. Taking advantage of the modern facilities in their classroom, Cosmetology students learned techniques in wig styling, manicuring and applying make-up, in addition to cutting hair. Classroom experience allowed many of the students to pass regional college scholarship examinations necessary for a future in Cosmetology.

Learn a language . . .
Make a new friend

More than just learning the language of the German speaking countries, Ms. Grote brought an insight to the students about the people themselves, their habits, customs and culture. Students participated in a variety of fun activities together, such as a skating party, wiener roast and a trip to Bavarian Gardens, where students dined and danced the German way. Towards the end of the year, the club also took part in International Day, where all clubs presented something reminiscent of the country their language represented.

Homemaking students adapt to changing times

No longer is a woman's role in the home. Many young men and women are adapting to different roles in society through FHA. Students were able to learn proper techniques in homemaking such as cooking, sewing, and budget planning, but they also learned to accept homelike responsibilities such as dating, marriage, and child raising through Home and Family Living classes. Events such as the Mother-Daughter Banquet, Daddy Date Night, and the Christmas Food-Fashion Show highlighted the year. Students were able to enjoy a few moments of relaxation and friendship during the trip to the Texas State Fair in Dallas and the CHS-McCullough Food Fair and Bakeoff. FHA members participated in both the Area and State Conventions in the Spring.

Experience is the best teacher in FHA Co-op

Equal opportunity for both male and female in on-the-job training is characteristic of the FHA Co-op. Through its program of classroom instruction on economics, nutrition, family living, and homemaking skills, coupled with experience, Co-op members learned to perform their chosen jobs to the utmost degree of knowledge and skill. FHA Co-op provided job placement and training for all students interested in home economics related jobs.

Medical Careers examines future in medicine

This year's Medical Careers Club aided students in understanding and exploring different careers in the field of medicine. The club conducted classroom research and invited guest speakers from hospitals and the Conroe resource center. Club members also exhibited a concern for others with community service projects during the year, as in their Christmas project. They traveled to Evergreen, Texas, and shared food, presents and a Christmas tree with the underprivileged there. They also wrapped packages for area businesses before Christmas.

Football Cheerleaders ignite flame of enthusiasm at CHS

Although the end of school provides a needed vacation for many CHS students, the Football Cheerleaders found that the end brought the beginning of preparation for the upcoming football season. Challenged with the task of reorganizing under the supervision of a new sponsor, Mrs. Debbie Cotton, the '77 Football Cheerleaders began painting signs and learning new cheers during summer vacation. Their work was rewarded as they received several superior ratings at cheerleading camp.

Some people wonder what motivated a group of girls to devote so much of their time to one activity. Tiger mascot, Tish Corporon, stated, "Cheerleading is an honor, but the satisfaction you get out of supporting such a great football team and its fans is worth all the time in the world."

Students gain insight into teaching profession through participation in FTA

Through informal classroom discussions and presentations, the Future Teachers of America club sought to expel misbeliefs and encourage interest in the field of education. FTA members explored the pros and cons of teaching and gained valuable insight into what to expect in this field. The club once again sold candles and also sold pencils to raise funds for the club's activities, such as trips and the annual Christmas party. These activities gave members a chance to get to know each other and have fun while learning about teaching.

Club members investigate different facts of Science

Science Club members were exposed to many different fields of science during the year. Students had the opportunity to hear speakers on various subjects throughout their monthly meetings. Members also toured the Science Department at Sam Houston State University in February. Students at CHS were able to view exhibits at the Club's annual Science Fair. Winners from this fair went on to compete at the Houston fair which was held at the Astrohall.

Accomplishment sparks appreciation in employers

Local banks, airport employees, and City Hall officials along with other townspeople, became familiar with Job Training students this year through the field trips of the club. Members, along with their classroom studying, hosted the Special Olympics for handicapped students here at CHS. Participants of Job Training were seen throughout the halls selling calendar pads and key chains to fund trips to a concert and to Astroworld. To highlight the year, the students honored their employers at their annual Employer-Employee Banquet. The accomplishments and improvements made by students during the year sparked a sense of appreciation and pride in their employers.

ICT: Individuality, Cooperation, Training

ICT offered a variety of individual courses this year which allowed the student to move at his own pace while emphasizing vocations important to him. Students were able to choose from areas such as nursing or dental hygenics. ICT members were encouraged to pursue a job occupation related to those courses in which they felt most comfortable. As a result of this personal training, ICT members were better prepared for a highly competitive job market.

¡Bienvenidos a Club de Espanol!

Spanish Club members hardly had a chance to breathe all year! Students enjoyed the Patio Fiesta which was held at Ricardo's restaurant. Enthusiastic club members presented a Spanish club booth to help interest other students in Spanish at the International Day festivities. Club members also sponsored a movie in which the earnings furnished a scholarship for an outstanding student in the Spanish Club.

YFC rallies Christian spirit

Each week Youth for Christ members met together to discuss their problems, beliefs, and feelings concerning their relationship with God. Through these meetings, students were better able to understand their friends, surroundings, and themselves. Math Club increases competition skill

Does math seem like a hopeless case to you? Well then maybe you should continue reading!! Enabling students to better their mathematics skills through tutoring sessions was the main objective of the Math Club. Many students appeared each Wednesday to receive help from other students who had previously mastered a math course. As their grades began to improve, students realized the value in attending the tutoring sessions. However, tutoring was not the only activity of the Math Club. Members visited the math department of Sam Houston State University and the computer center in the Vocational building. Funds raised from the tutoring sessions were used for the annual Christmas party and participation in the Coronation in February.

Thespian Club spotlights student talent

An understanding of the fine arts came about for the Thespians through study and hard work. These dedicated young artists produced many fine presentations for CHS students and the community. The first of these was a three act comedy entitled "Blithe Spirit", which was presented November 18th and 20th. The Thespians went to individual classrooms December 20th and 21st and performed Christmas skits for the students. In January, the Thespians presented a variety show which was greatly enjoyed by the student body. In the spring, the Thespians presented a more serious production, "Camelot", which was performed on March 30th, 31st, and April 1st. To wind up their activities for the year, the Thespians presented a one act play for UIL competition.

Curtain rises on a new year for Drama Club

Long hours of continuous practice marked the efforts of the Drama Club. Members worked hard to perfect productions presented for the enjoyment of CHS students and the community. In November, the club presented "Blithe Spirit," a three-act comedy. One production of the Drama Club which was greatly enjoyed by the students was the first "Club Wars." Sponsored by the Drama Club, all clubs in CHS were invited to come and present a skit, with the winners, the GiGi's, receiving a check for their club. Plays and comedies were not the only productions of the Drama Club, however. Also presented were a musical, "Camelot," in March, and a variety show, "A Cabaret," in January. Through these activities, the club offered a background in the fine arts which would spark cultural appreciation among the students and community.

T-Square members search the field of architecture

Mr. Saul and Mr. Lilley, the sponsors of the T-Square Club, guided their students through both an educational and exciting year. They invited instructors and students from industries and colleges to speak to the members on careers in architecture. Through these speakers, the students were able to explore the different aspects of industrial jobs and technical schools. T-Square members also provided their drawing and lettering services to teachers at Conroe High. At the end of the year, the club held a dance and an annual barbecue as a celebration of their broader knowledge in the field of architecture.

Closer communication breeds success in VOE-OEA

Many clubs concern themselves only with business related activities, but VOE-OEA went a step further this year by creating a "Big Sister-Little Sister" program. Through this program, club members had a closer communication with their fellow members by exchanging cards and gifts.

The "sister" program played a vital role in the success of VOE-OEA; however, hard work was also a factor in this success. Funds were raised during the year to allow members to organize projects and participate in several local and district contests.

Action-filled schedule keeps NFL active

The National Forensic League began this year in promising fashion by competing in the Spring Speech Tournament.

Carole Putman, in her first year as NFL sponsor, initiated an active program to prepare students for state-level competition. Attending area contests, students competed in debate, prose and poetry, and duet acting.

NFL members cleaned the cars of Conroe and hosted a junior high speech tournament, providing funds for future tournaments.

One of the goals of NFL was to help students become more confident and effective public speakers in positions of community leadership. Through their activities this year, they achieved that goal.

Auto Mechanics increases mental mechanics

Many CHS students go to high school for one main reason: preparation for further education in college. However, several students have already discovered a vocation which requires no college degree and can be learned right here at Conroe High School: Auto Mechanics. Students participating in this course learned the basic principles involved in general auto repair, as well as actually working on cars brought in by local citizens. Auto Mechanics also attended skill contests at district competition held at Lamar University in April.

Building Trades constructs experienced workers

Throughout the year, the Building Trades Club worked vigorously constructing a brick house designed by the Drafting Club, in Artesian Forest. On the side, the members worked on other construction projects. Mr. Bobby Stephens, the sponsor, directed his students on the correct procedure in building a house. The club members gained experience through their work.

Metal Trades help CISD improve area schools

Helping the Conroe Independent School District improve recreational facilities in the local schools kept Metal Trades students busy during the '77-'78 school year. Several playground items, among them a bicycle rack, were built for Crockett Intermediate School. Students also made a cabinet for the press box PA system in Conroe Tiger Stadium. Metal coverings for the recently improved pole vaulting pits, also located in the stadium, kept the pits in excellent condition all year round. Services such as these provided valuable experience for Metal Trades students, as well as helping the school system financially.

Radio and T.V. fuses student interest

1977-78 Radio and T.V. members worked diligently during the entire school year repairing used radios and televisions to raise funds for their club. The club encouraged interest among the students as they gained training in the electronics field. Their sponsor, Mr. Neathery, taught the members necessary skills and knowledge in order for them to succeed in this area.

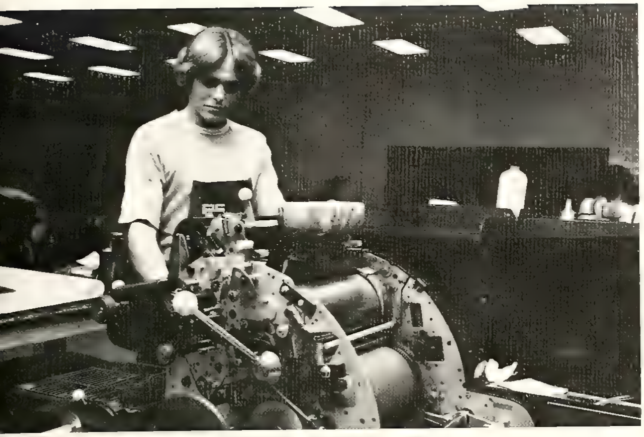
Printing Trades explores graphic arts



Many students read the program for some school event, such as a play or band concert, and never wonder where the program came from. The work of the Vocational Printing Trades club, although it is essential to CHS, is usually taken for granted. It was this club which printed most anything from these programs to the stationery and envelopes used by the C.I.S.D. administration, and produced commercial printing work for corporations besides the school system.

Like many other clubs, Printing Trades prepared all year for VICA contests. These area and state competitions, which involved the judging of both printing skill and quality of the finished product, were held in February, March and April. Besides working toward competition, club members improved printing skills, learned proper and efficient techniques of printing machine operation and the importance of high quality in all printed materials produced.

Air Conditioning members gain life-long skills

Proper maintenance of large-scale appliances was the force that motivated the Air Conditioning Club this year. Under the direction of their sponsor, Earl Carpenter, club members obtained a sense of satisfaction by repairing appliances, such as refrigerators and air conditioners. Thus they gained the skills necessary for employment in this field after graduation.

VOCCT expands interest beyond office duplication

Members of VOCCT expanded their interests and activities, playing an important role in assisting other organizations at CHS. Such activities included the printing of our literary magazine, the TROIKA, and the production of the Tiger Paws directory. A scrapbook was also organized by club members containing pictures and interesting data collected throughout the year.

D.E. distributes assistance

Local businesses obtained hardworking employees while giving students in the Distributive Education program valuable experience in marketing and distribution. Besides on-the-job training, career research in the classroom helped prepare students for the business world. Jobs for D.E. students ranged from bookkeeping to stocking merchandise. After attending the classroom session each day, they reported to their respective occupations.

CVAE molds qualified leaders

This year, CVAE instilled leadership qualities and job related skills in its students.

Students attended school for half of the day, including one job-related class. They then reported to their various jobs. Students held a wide variety of occupations which were mostly single-skilled or semi-skilled. Jobs ranged from building construction to working at restaurants.

Latin Club revives Roman culture

Latin, the root of all modern languages, helped to make English more understandable for Latin Club members by revealing the origins of many of our words. Students studied Latin in the classroom and participated in many activities that explored the relevance of ancient Latin cultures in today's world.

They relived these cultures by traveling to the Greek Festival in Houston, to the Renaissance Festival in Magnolia, and held a car wash as a fund raising project.

Building Construction establishes self-confidence

In order to provide actual first-hand experience and skill for Building Construction students, a 40′ × 24′ move-away house was constructed on the school grounds. This project improved the building concepts of each individual, and gave these club members the practice essential to the development of self-confidence and quality craftsmanship. These students also attended district and state competitions in March and April, involving the fields ranging from speed and skill to tool identification and accurate measuring and cutting.

Pre-District victories foretell success

"This is your Sports Game Announcer and I'm here at Conroe Tiger Stadium for the Tigers' first Pre-District game of their '77 season. First quarter action, Tigers' ball on their own 40 yard line. It's second down and long yardage for the first. Quarterback, Jeff Henke, takes the snap from center Ricky Pruitt. He fakes to fullback, Gilford Easley and fades back looking to pass. Surveying his field of receivers, Henke spots split-end, David Dumas and unleashes the bomb. It zeroes in on Dumas who snags the spiraling pigskin and scampers 18 yards for the T.D. What a combination!"

This account of action in the pre-district clash with the St. Thomas Eagles, exemplifies the type of performance no one really expected from the Tiger Varsity Squad. With a record of 3-2, the Tigers provided ample evidence that they possessed skills which are vital for a successful season. A high point of the pre-district schedule came about in the game against highly rated John Tyler. The Tigers shocked the Tyler Lions 34-0 in a helmet-racking battle during which the crushing Tiger defense held the Tyler offense to 52 total yards and only 3 first downs. On the other hand, the Gold Gridders amassed 282 total yards including a total passing yardage of 128 yards by Henke. By defeating the Tyler team, the Tigers earned a 5th place ranking in the area. But the Tigers seemed to be too content with their status as they lost their final two games of pre-district against the speedsters of Lufkin, 7-20, and the State ranked Temple Wildcats, 0-10. "We made a lot of mistakes in those games (Temple and Lufkin), but we can correct mainly the problem of not taking advantage of our breaks for good field position," Coach Stabler commented. "We need to concentrate on smoothing out those problems and preparing for District."

"Big Gold Machine" produces district victories

With memories of early wins in pre-district competition, the Conroe Tigers emerged into 16-4A district play with self-motivated confidence and team unity. An opening victory of 34-3 put the "big gold machine" into operation with a momentum that opponents could not overcome. The machine continued to function the following week as the Homecoming queen candidates and exes witnessed the 54-3 taming of the Spring Lions. The highly effective passing combination of quarterback Binky Ford and wide receiver David Dumas, along with the faultless play of the specialty teams, overwhelmed the Jersey Village Falcons by a score of 44-3 the next week at Butler Stadium. Such impressive victories against opponents earned Head Coach W. T. Stapler the award of Coach of the Year.

The next victim of the gold and white attack was Conroe's arch-rival, Cy-Fair. Although the Bobcats had improved over last year, they still could not contend with the iron defense and lightning-quick offensive play of the Tigers as they fell with a surprising score of 45-0.

Tension mounted as Conroe prepared to face the Bryan Vikings, a powerful team that the Tigers had not defeated in 3 years. Since the Vikings had taken the district crown from Conroe in '76, the Tigers were eager to regain the title. A well executed running game and an iron curtain defense proved to be too much for Bryan as the forceful Tigers dominated the game with a score of 35-7. This long awaited victory clinched a perfect district record of 5-0 and encouraged the players as they began their quest for the state championship.

Tigers experience sweet taste of victory

With the 16-4A district championship under their belts, the Conroe Tigers traveled to College Station to meet the Temple Wildcats in what some say was the most important game in Conroe history. The Tiger spirit remained undaunted in the contest and walked away with a 3-0 victory.

Play in the first half seemed like a game of chess with Temple and Conroe marching back and forth across the field without much success. However, a powerful Temple offensive drive was snuffed out by Bobby Lyn Coleman's key interception in the Wildcat endzone ending Temple's only real threat to score.

Defense proved to be the major factor in the second half as Conroe's iron curtain closed tightly over the Wildcats and put a lid on their rushing yardage. Aggressiveness by such defensive players as Matt Johnson, Kevin Kennedy and Renrick Rector stopped every attempt of a Temple scoring drive. The play of the defense was so formidable that the Wildcats never came closer than the Conroe 46 yard line.

With still another distinguished victory on their record the Tigers were confident maybe this would be the year that the state championship would be theirs.

Regional loss leaves Tigers anxious for next year

In the Sports world it is often said that the team that works together through "thick and thin" will emerge a better team knowing they have accomplished unity. The Conroe Tigers, in the sense of their Regional Play-off Championship game against Plano, emerged not as a team defeated in a game, but rather as a team which had stretched their expectations far beyond their speculations. In the contest at Baylor Stadium, the Tigers fell to the Plano Wildcats, 28-9, chalking up another strong contention for the Regional crown.

From the opening kick-off, one could not foresee the Tigers' doom as David Womack ran the ball deep into Plano territory to the 40-yard line. But the gridders' fate closed in after David Dumas' faithful foot put the score at 3-0 with a field goal.

The momentum the Wildcats created with their first touchdown, carried them throughout the entire game helping them to hold the Tiger rushing effort to a minus one ground yardage gain and 7 sacks of the quarterback for 65 yards in losses. Comments from Coach Stapler were unnecessary to describe a game which will always be remembered as a hoped-for victory turned into a heartbreaking defeat. But next year's outlook includes a Tiger team with more experience under their belts and a team anticipated to again gain recognition as potential State contending power.

J.V.'s show power in district play

Despite giving up a large number of players to the Tiger Varsity squad, the J.V. team under the guidance of coaches Ken Burkhalter and Mike Barber, fought their way to a 6-3-1 season and a second place finish in district competition.

In the game which would determine who was to become the undisputed leader in the race for the district 16-4A crown "never-say-die" J.V.'s dropped a game to the McCullough Highlanders, 25-8. Though trailing throughout the game, the J.V.'s strove to put on a rally in the game but fell short of their mark when McCullough made some key defensive plays. The Tiger defense stiffened in the second half but penalties thwarted their effort to hold McCullough at bay.

The J.V.'s 20-0 victory over Jersey Village completed their season with the Junior Varsity team attaining a respectable second place status in district.

Awesome Sophs clinch district crown

Led by an explosive offense and a hard-hitting defense the Sophomore Tigers fought their way to an overall 9-1 season and their second straight district 16-4A crown.

In one of their finest games of the season, the determined Sophomore team clashed with the previously unbeaten Cypress Creek team defeating them 26-21. A fourth quarter touchdown proved to be the difference in the final outcome of the game as quarterback Eddie Yost connected with split-end Todd York for the winning touchdown.

Continuing their rivalry with the McCullough Highlanders, the talented Sophs came away with a 34-2 victory. Despite trailing 2-0 at the start of the second half, the Conroe offense put on a brilliant running and passing show. Quarterback Eddie Yost had an outstanding game, gaining 132 yards on 6 carries behind the blocking of his offensive line.

In their bid for an undefeated season, the forceful Sophomores lost the last game of their excellent season to Bryan 20-12, finishing district with a 5-1 record and capturing another district 16-4A crown.

Frosh display power in '77 season

In their first year of high school competition, the players on the Freshman football team posted a respectable 7-3 mark under the direction of Coaches Paul Harris and Bob Bonar.

The Frosh showed their potential in the first game of the season when they rolled up a total of 543 yards on offense in a 30-6 victory over St. Thomas. Quarterback Todd Goodwin had an excellent game against St. Thomas with 202 yards rushing while running back Ken Wong had 119 yards. Scott Kidd and Terrell Palmer led the defense as St. Thomas could only muster one touchdown.

Freshman "B" team players also had a season worthy of recognition. The "B" team finished its 77 season with a 5-3-2 mark spotted by outstanding performances supporting the contention that next year's Sophomore and Junior Varsity teams should have ample potential material to mold successful teams.

Trainers provide sideline support

Working behind the scenes of all CHS athletic events, the training staff efficiently handled the welfare and needs of the Tiger players. While almost completely unnoticed by fans, the trainers offered aid and care to all participants involved in Conroe sports with no other motives than personal satisfaction. Guided by the experienced Head Trainer Mike Saly, these students prevented many serious injuries from occuring by treating the players with the best of medical techniques. Whether taping the ankle of a football player or healing the pulled muscle of a cross-country runner, the trainers were involved by working many hours outside of school time.

Their perseverance paid off, however in that they gained useful knowledge in the field of medical aid. Many of the students plan to further their medical interest in college. Several scholarships are given annually to CHS trainers because of their fine work in treating the athletes. Of all the many athletic programs and organizations offered at Conroe High, the training program is one of the finest in that they best serve the needs of Conroe athletes and students.

Spikers capture second place in district

By overcoming the problems that have plagued volleyball teams of previous years, the Conroe Tigerettes captured a second place finish in 16-4A district competition with an outstanding record of 20-10. The spikers showed youthful talent and team togetherness as they began to compile victory after victory against such powerful opponents as Spring, Klein, and Cy-Fair. Their only obstacle in their quest for the district crown came when they met Jersey Village, winners of the district in '76. Although the energetic Tigers displayed fine play, the Falcons defeated the Tigerettes by a score of 6-15 and 3-15. Even though this loss was a great disappointment to the players, it proved that they had the ability and incentive it takes to compile a winning season.

The reality of a district championship seemed more apparent as the playing of such talented girls as Jennifer Giese, Kathy Rudolph, and Jeanette Hendricks began to improve and strengthen the team's sense of unity. These able players, combined with the unique coaching techniques of Coach Mary Jo Parker, insured the success of the Tigerettes. Coach Parker summed up the '77 season by stating "We've come a long way since the beginning. We're more experienced and have more talent on this year's team than we did several years ago. I believe that next year we should be stronger, more improved and have a season as successful as this one or maybe better."

Powerful pre-district play predicts Tiger victories

Successful basketball teams require talented players and experience from competition. Keeping this idea in mind, Coach Larry Berkman strove for success during the varsity squad's '77-'78 season. He formed a basketball team intent on a unified effort — to win. After their 72-53 victory over Dickinson Coach Berkman commented, "This team possesses a lot of confidence in themselves and enthusiasm to play basketball. They have shown strong potential to be winners, particularly by their high scoring ability." The Tiger's roster included five returning lettermen and a host of five returning varsity players. An early season 70-61 win against Huntsville was spotlighted by outstanding plays from Dean Craig who canned 12 points, Randy Menefee who sparked rallies in lagging moments with scoring jumpers from the corners, and center David Bunce who grabbed nine rebounds in the game. "Height, our biggest advantage," Coach Berkman said, "can be beneficial to us and by changing the offense to a high-low post system, we should be able to use our slight edge to its fullest extent."

The Tiger J.V. enjoyed one of its best seasons ever by winning 18 in a row after losing the opening game of the 1978 season. The loss to Aldine MacArthur gave the Tigers incentive to strive for a winning streak. An aggressive defense intimidated opponents forcing opposing teams to make mistakes resulting in Tiger baskets. The powerful offense was led by formidable inside play by Dan Bunce, Kevin Chaney and C. D. Brooks all of whom had outstanding games controlling the boards and averaging 10 rebounds between the three. Complimenting the inside play were guards Daryl Wilson, Kenny Nemetz and forward Tim O'Neill. Coach Paul Harris commented, "The team really is playing together this year. Tigerettes: scorching victories take district crown

Successful basketball teams have been known to possess one major common factor — the incentive to be winners. The Tigerette Basketball team's outstanding performance during their '78 season exhibited their desire to win. With the precedent set by last year's which played in the state playoff tournament, Coach Marsha Porter had her work cut out for her to form another strong team. "Our record of 25-2 with only three games left in the season reflects the intense spirit the team has. The girls really wanted another chance at the state title." The Tigerettes' characteristic type of play displayed the reason they are called "the epitome of the balanced basketball attack." Offensively, the Tigerettes averaged 74 points per outing accomplished by a well-rounded offensive attack. The scoring was led by showstopping play form Cile Stokes, Monte Myers, and Lynda Myers. Coupled with aggressive defensive play, the girls held opponents to an average of only 35 points per game.

In the Tigerettes most important game of the season against Cy-Fair, the team's ability proved vital. The defeated the Bobcats in the contest, 66-52 and secured the 16-4A district crown. Coach Porter remarked, "This year, everybody went out of their way to work harder during practice and it really did show in their play."

Thrilling victories pace J.V. Tigerette season

Pursuing the success of the more experienced varsity team, the girls Junior Varsity basketball team finished the '77-'78 season with a remarkable record of 16-7. Led by Coach Carol Hurley, the Tigerettes dominated the 16-4A district competition with several impressive wins over such able opponents as the Bryan Vikings and the Klein Wildcats.

Inspired by the explosive playing styles of Katy Barron and Donna Stegall, the J.V. Tigerettes turned otherwise lifeless games into thrilling competition. One such game happened when the girls played the team from Barber's Hill at the Robert E. Lee Tournament as the J.V.'s reversed a one sided game into a final second 25-23 victory. This win was just one of the hard earned accomplishments that arose during the Tigerette season.

When a team develops a winning reputation, it often finds that team success becomes as much a part of the game plan as the fast break or the give-and-go. However, the girl's J.V. team kept up the winning record in '78 and eagerly awaited the challenge to repeat the Tiger dynasty in future seasons.

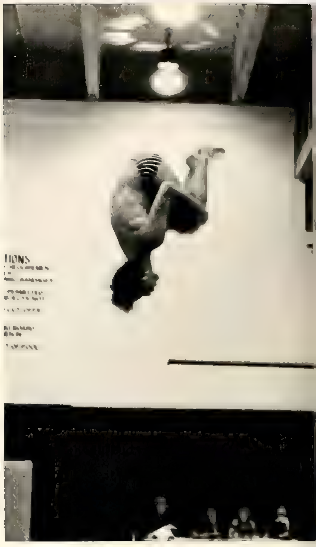
Tankers dive into successful season



The CHS tankers started their '77-'78 swim season on a strong note as they faired well in the first invitational meets of the year. The boy's team swam to a convincing 4th place finish in the Spring Branch Invitational out of a field of fifteen teams while the girls took 7th place honors in the meet. Swimming coach Chuck Cox summed up his feelings of the team's chances this year when he said, "I feel like we have one of the stronger teams in our district and definitely the strongest group ever at CHS. We should have an excellent season this year and if all goes well, should qualify most of the team for the region meet and quite a few for the state meet." With the season only halfway completed the swim team has broken 26 school records displaying their potential power in competition and creating a momentum which carried them through the rest of the season.

Golfers anticipate winning season

Golf has been a winning tradition over the years here at CHS and this year's golf team can be expected to carry on that tradition. If experience plays any part in developing a good team, the boys should put together a fine team as a result of several returning golfers. Coach Chris Kattner commented on the team's chances in their 1978 season, "I'm very optimistic about our chances in district this year. The team has been practicing every day and have been working hard so I'm confident we'll have a successful season." Four top golfers returning from last year's squad: Tommy Dunn, Mike Montanari, Snapper King, and Judd McGlohn, should provide the experience necessary to form a top contending team in competition.

Golfers shoot for playoffs

In an effort to uphold the winning tradition known to the girl's golf program, the Tigerette golf team looked toward their '78 season with hopeful anticipation. Comprised mainly of girls that participated on last years' Junior Varsity team, the girls spent long hours in preparation for the upcoming spring tournaments. Outstanding performances in the Dullus tournament in early February gave Coach Carol Putman an indication of the youthful and energetic talent that was involved in the Conroe High golf program. The capable varsity players, along with a strong Junior Varsity team, looked toward the '78 season with hopes of matching or surpassing the state championship Tigerette team of '77. The girls' abundant talent, plus much improved golfing skills, aided the Tigerettes as they set their sights on the district crown.

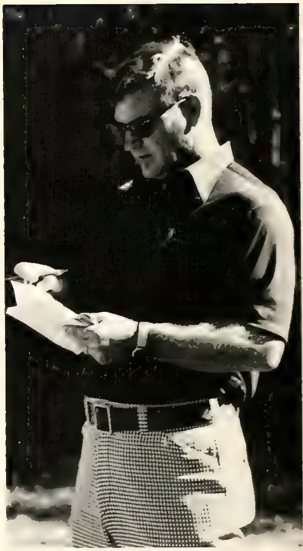
Cross Country teams stride to district victory



Backed by team leadership and a strong desire for winning, the Cross-Country teams of 1977 dominated the district 16-AAAA running competition. Under the proficient coaching techniques of Rayford McIlhaney and David Greenfield, the runners gained confidence and competition experience in several key meets.

Following many impressive showings in district competition at the A&M Consolidated and the Conroe Invitational meets, the boy's team captured a remarkable second place finish in the district race. In the regional meet held at Austin, the harriers placed a disappointing fifth which caused them to fall short of a bid for the state title.

After compiling several first place finishes in early season clashes, the girl's team went on to repeat their winning performance in the district meet. Even though the girls had gained momentum and excellent running form, they had to settle for a frustrating sixth place in the regional meet. This was the first time since their beginning at CHS that the girls did not make a showing at the state finals.

Since their start as a major sport, the Cross-Country teams have gained both popularity and state recognition. These qualities, along with the help of several aspiring runners such as Darrell Kurten and Becky Miller, assure the teams of more athletic honors in '78.

New improvements predict success for Tiger Tracksters

Returning from a highly successful season in the spring of '77, the boys' track team eagerly anticipated competition from rival schools. Although hindered by bad weather and incomplete running facilities, the Tigers practiced in the gymnasium early in the year for the upcoming season.

Much of the predicted success of the runners was based on the achievements of last year's team. Highly talented and spirited people such as hurdler David Dumas and shot putter Klark Bishop emerged as the building blocks of the team's victories. These tracksters, along with the district championship Junior Varsity team, helped to establish a lasting Conroe dynasty in track and field.

In his second year as head coach of the track program, Rayford McIlhaney showed several improvements in the team's outlook. New methods of training such as a weight lifting program and endurance exercises strengthened the Tiger's chances of a district crown. Also, a newly completed resin running track added to the potential of the team. These new improvements, along with the aid of several experienced assistant coaches, foreshadowed victory in the forthcoming meets for the cindermen in the '78 season.

Experience provides starting blocks for Tigerettes

Challenged by the performance of last year's district championship team, the 1978 Girls' track team eagerly awaited the chance to prove themselves winners. Aided by the practical coaching methods of David Greenfield, the Tigerettes practiced during the cold winter months in preparation for the upcoming season. The team's chances for another district crown were increased by the return of several experienced runners. These Tigerettes such as Becky Miller, Mary Cates, Brenda Morning, and Melanie Muller should present a solid roster and supply the team with the necessary leadership to achieve their goal of a winning season.

Achieving a goal despite all unyielding conditions separates the winners from the true champions. If the Tigerettes can uphold the performance that is associated with all CHS athletes, despite the rainy weather and the incomplete track, they will experience the sweetness of victory in its finest form.

Young Netters seek second straight district crown

With hopes of capturing a second straight district title, the Tiger netters began their 1978 season with anticipation. The boys' team, despite losing three seniors after last year, had three returning lettermen: senior, Rick Jones; junior, Wally McAfee; junior, Greg Alger. Though the boys had a young team they hoped to build a district contending team. The girls' team, after having lost one senior from last year's squad, was in the running for the girls' team championship of District 16-4A, a title which they claimed last year.

To start off their season, the netters handily defeated McCullough 8-0. They then met their first real test of the year when they faced a tough team from Klein. The Tigers dropped a close match 5-3. After that first loss the Tigers' hopes for a team championship were dimmed slightly. Looking ahead, the Tigers saw they were to face another challenge the following week in the name of a team from Cy-Fair. They hoped to be victorious in this match and initiate a successful season.

Baseball: Practice produces potential power

After a team has had a winning season, each team member strives to achieve that same high status and their fans expect nothing less. The Tiger Baseball team's successful '77 season gave them a taste of victory and a goal to look forward to in '78. With six returning starters to the Tiger squad, experience for Coach Mike Ferrell was abundant. Outstanding players such as all-district pitcher, Mike Bingham, were followed up by a host of other able and qualified teammates in the likes of David Womack, Denny Buckalew, John Hineman, and Bobby Lynn Coleman. Early practice sessions reflected high potential for the diamond men and Coach Ferrell was prompted to remark, "The team is looking better and better and we should be able to put up a strong contention for the district championship."

With the ending of another year of competition in sports, all Conroe Tigers emerged with a modified view of themselves and life itself. The year of '77-'78 was one filled with heartbreaking losses on the way to the top, and thrilling victories on the path toward that single most valued accomplishment — becoming a champion. But throughout our sport-influenced lives here at Conroe High, we have conceived and then emphasized a major concept for everyone to live by: after we choose our goal in life, we must strive for it. We must take the good with the bad. For when we attain that all-important apex, we know we have become Number 1!!!

SENIORS
Tig

As the passage of time brought the new year clearly into view, the Class of '78 realized that the year for which they'd waited so long had suddenly arrived. The long climb was ending as each senior realized the finish line was near and on the other side of that line waited new experiences and more bright hopes.

The Seniors of '78 brought about a new tradition with their tremendous enthusiasm and were instrumental in motivating the spirit of the student body. They set a national record with their magazine drive netting over $78,000 and have a right to claim the longest winning streak for pep rallies. Their passage marks the last class to be united under one high school for the Conroe area.

As future days carry each member of this outstanding class on his way, may they reflect on their past experiences and never forget all the joyous times at Conroe High School. The changes which occurred over the four years will be relived many times — from the first wild-eyed day in the "Aquarium" to the proud feeling of honor when that long awaited diploma was received.

Take these memories with you Seniors and let them remind you of what it was like to be king of the mountain.

Outstanding Seniors of 1978

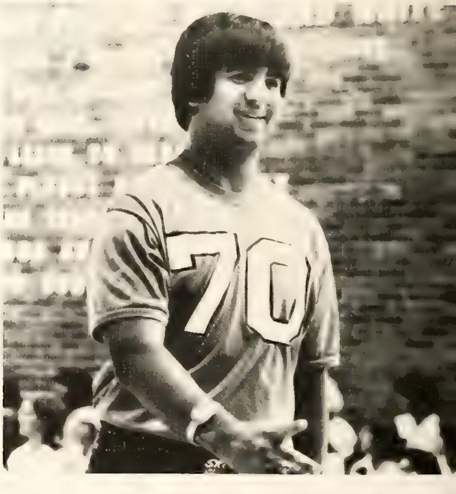
On the following pages, a tribute is made to those especially outstanding in the Class of '78. Their exceptional character, academic achievements and involvement make them deserving of the honor of being chosen the Outstanding Seniors of 1978.

Aileen Ussery

Tackling the tremendous responsibility of serving as Editor of the FLARE, Aileen demonstrated exceptional leadership characteristics. While participating in the band program, she was in the marching, concert and symphonic bands. Her academic abilities qualified her to become a member of the National Honor Society. Aileen also became involved in Student Council and FHA. In addition, the FLARE Staff elected her to serve as their FLARE Queen candidate in the Coronation. Outside of school, Aileen was a member of Young Life and active in her church youth activities.

Kevin Kennedy

Through participation in sports, Kevin established himself as a truly gifted athlete. His three year position on the Varsity Football Team brought him many awards and finally placed him on the All State and All American teams. He stood as a source of leadership to the student body and was instrumental in leading the Tigers to many successive victories. While serving as president of the class, he led the Juniors to set a national record with their magazine drive and challenged underclassmen to beat their mark.



Jeff Waldo

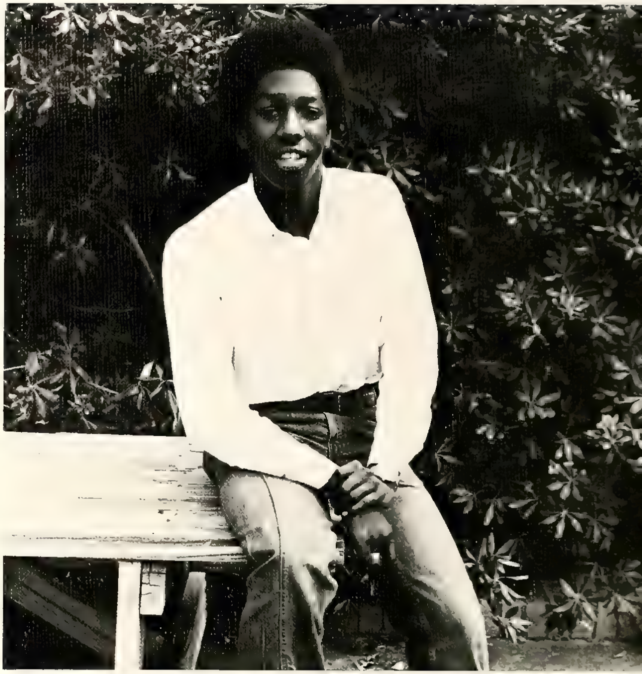
Jeff has only been at CHS for one year but his achievements have certainly made him outstanding in his class. He is a tremendously gifted musician which is evident by his band membership. Jeff has been involved in his school band for four years and made first chair in All District, Region, Area and All-State bands. He also made first chair in the All-State Symphony Orchestra. He participated in the German Club, Astronomy Club and was interested in speech. His academic achievements made him eligible for induction into the National Honor Society.

Tish Corporon

Promoting school spirit was the primary concern of Tish. As a Golden Girl, basketball cheerleader and football Tiger, she was instrumental in backing the athletic teams. Her position on Student Council and as a class officer reflect her interest and abilities in leadership. As a member of FTA, she learned more about her planned career as a teacher. She was also a member of the Spanish Club and was selected as a Homecoming Queen candidate and FLARE Queen candidate. Tish took an interest in journalism and was a member of the Triumph Staff and served as Assistant Editor her senior year. Her many talents and abilities were reflected by her participation in these various organizations.

Mike Gipson

Mike holds many outstanding abilities and demonstrated them through his involvement in various activities. He was a member of the German Club and participated in freshman basketball and track. Mike also devoted much time to the FLARE Staff and was photographer and editor of Sports his senior year. He participated in Student Council and served as Vice-President of the Student body. His studies were not forgotten and Mike's abilities qualified him for induction into the National Honor Society. He plans to attend Texas A&M and major in electrical engineering.



Cindy Sterling

Involvement in choir ranks high on Cindy's list of accomplishments. She was a member of the Freshman Girl's Choir, Advanced Girl's Choir and Chambers Singers. Using her creative writing abilities, Cindy served as Assistant Editor for the Troika Staff and won National Scholastic Writing awards. She also participated in the Spanish Club, French Club and NHS. Cindy received a National Merit Letter of Commendation and was selected for Who's Who among American High School students.

Cile Stokes

Someone once remarked that Cile was the best female athlete they had ever seen. Her excellent achievements as a Tigerette make her well deserving of this compliment. She has played Varsity basketball for three years and was chosen for All-District in 76-77. She further used her athletic abilities while running on the Varsity Track Team. Cile participated in leadership by serving as a Junior Representative and was a member of the Student Council. Her scholastic standing made her eligible for the National Honor Society and she was selected for Who's Who Among American High School Students. Cile was also involved in FHA, Young Life, and the Spanish Club.

Dee Dee Jung

During her years at CHS, Dee Dee has made outstanding achievements by being a member of the marching, symphonic and Dixieland bands. Her honors include: 1st Division in Solo and Ensemble contest and All District and All Region bands. She participated in the Student Council by representing the band and was also active in the Wilderness Club and Young Life. Furthermore, Dee Dee was inducted into the National Honor Society and selected for Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Outstanding Seniors

Outstanding Seniors

Bret Wingert

Comedy in the FLARE would not have been the same without the creativity of Bret. He assisted with the time-consuming task of thinking up snaps and served as Advertisement Editor. Bret also took an interest in music and was a member of the mixed choir and the A Cappella Choir. He also participated in the Spanish Club, Chess Club, and Math Club. Bret received a great scholastic honor by earning the National Merit Letter of Commendation and was selected for membership in the National Honor Society. He used acting talents in Little Theatre productions and also attended Young Life and church youth activities.

Lili Rivera

Taking part in many activities makes Lili well deserving of this honor. She supported school spirit by being a four year member of Golden Girls and also belonged to the Spanish Club, History Club, and Science Club. On top of these activities, Lili took on the pressures of FLARE Staff and served as the Editor of Classes her senior year. But, through all this, Lili established the scholastic average qualifying her to serve as Salutatorian of her class and was also eligible for membership in the National Honor Society.

Cindy Hayward

Cindy has shown much enthusiasm and interest with her involvement in FHA by being a four-year member and serving as President and Vice-President. She has also used her dancing abilities to their fullest by being an officer and member of the Golden Girls. She received the honor of being selected for Who's Who in American Drill Teams and also Who's Who Among American High School Students. Her other activities include membership in the Drama Club, French Club, Student Council and National Honor Society.

Don High

Blessed with a tremendous voice, Don utilized his talents with involvement in choir and drama. He held major roles in school productions and made the All-State Choir. Before coming to CHS, Don was involved with the Good Sportsmanship League and Student Council. He used his athletic abilities on the Varsity Tennis Team and academic achievements made him eligible for the National Honor Society.

Outstanding Seniors

Dannah Edwards

Dannah defied language barriers and established herself as a fluent speaker of French. She made a name for herself by placing fourth nationally in Concours National De Francais. She served as president of the French Club and belonged to the Spanish Club. Dannah ranked third in the state at the Texas French Symposium and first at the Annual Declamation Contest. Furthermore, she took on the position of Poetry Editor for the new Troika Staff and was a Ready Writing Contestant. In addition to these accomplishments and awards, Dannah's scholastic standing made her eligible for induction into the National Honor Society.

Jim Grigsby

Jim demonstrated his interest in leadership by participating in government through the Student Council and serving as President of the organization. The golf and cross country teams provided an outlet for his athletic talents. Exceptional academic abilities, combined with participation in the Math Club, German Club and Chess Club, qualified Jim for membership in the National Honor Society. He was also involved on the FLARE Staff and served as the Photography Editor his senior year.

Donna Duggan

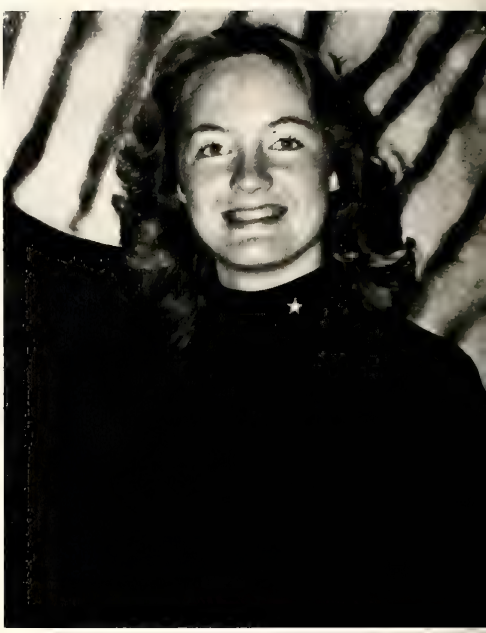
Taking advantage of many talents, Donna used them to participate in various activities. She became fluent in French, being active in this club for four years. She also joined the time-consuming FLARE Staff and served as Activities Editor her senior year. Donna became involved with the music department and was a member of the Chambers Choir and A Cappella Choir. Furthermore, she joined the Medical Careers Club, participated in Young Life and studied in the FHA department. Donna excelled academically and her efforts were rewarded with membership in the National Honor Society and selection for Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Richard Groppell

During the two years Richard has been at CHS, his achievements have made him stand out in his class. He ranked third in the state TIASA competitions and served as president of the Industrial Arts Club his senior year. He served as parliamentarian for the Student Council, exercising his leadership abilities. While taking a full load and holding down a job, Richard posted a high scholastic average and received membership in the National Honor Society and was selected for Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Lisa Shepherd

Lisa climaxed her high school days by taking on the position of Editor-in-Chief for the newly formed Troika Staff. She was an involved four-year Golden Girl and served as Vice-President her senior year. She also was a Gigi and was selected as Outstanding Golden Girl. Her interests varied broadly and she was a member of many different clubs such as FHA, Spanish Club, Medical Careers Club, Psychology Club and Wilderness Club. Leadership held importance and Lisa served as a Junior Representative and took part in Student Council. Finally, her academic standing earned her a place in the National Honor Society.



Doug Begin

Taking an interest in journalism, Doug was a two-year member of the Triumph Staff. He oversaw the finances for the school newspaper while serving as Advertisement Editor his senior year. Doug also demonstrated athletic abilities and took an active interest in track. He ran Cross Country and saw his teamwork pay off as the team won many honors. Doug made outstanding scholastic achievements and was thus inducted into the National Honor Society. As a reward for his accomplishments, Doug graduated from Conroe High School as an honor student.

Outstanding Seniors

Joe Zinecker

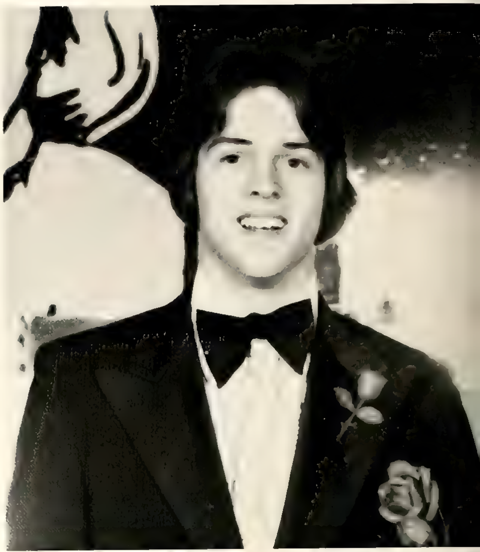
Joe filled his high school days with participation and enthusiasm in many various organizations. He took advantage of musical talents by being involved in the marching and Concert bands and was a four year member of the French Club. He used his leadership qualities by serving as president of the Wilderness Club and was also a member of Student Council. Through activities in the Chess Club, Math Club and Tactics and Strategy Club, Joe exercised reasoning abilities. His scholastic abilities earned him the honor of a National Merit Letter of Commendation and he was inducted into the National Honor Society.

Phillip King

Destined to be a professional, Phillip spent most of his time playing golf. He was a four year varsity letterman, a runner-up medalist in 16-4A competition and a Texas State Junior Golf Finalist. Phillip was a member of the Spanish Club and was inducted into the National Honor Society as a junior. During his senior year, Phillip served as Vice-President of his class and thus participated in Student Council.

Jeff Henke

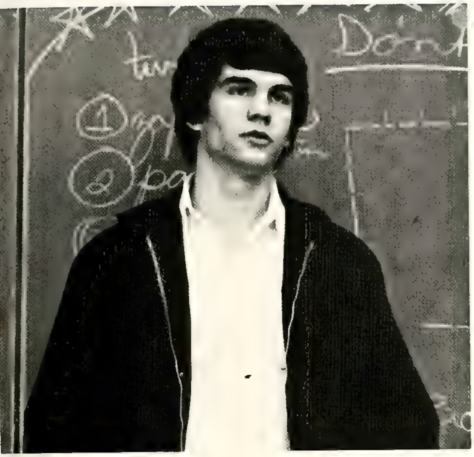
While being highly successful in various athletics, Jeff maintained the scholastic average qualifying him for the honor of being the Valedictorian for the Class of '78. His position on the varsity football and baseball teams earned him many awards and honors but did not interfere with his studies. He was inducted into the National Honor Society and also participated in the German Club.



Ann Vanwinkle

Ann's creative abilities gave the term "flower child" a new meaning. Her talents in floraculture allowed her to take the prize of Reserve Grand Champion Floral Arrangement. She was also active in FHA and served as president of the club her senior year and was thus a member of Student Council. Ann served as a vital part of various FFA judging teams and took a first place in the State Senior Chapter Conducting Team. She promoted school spirit as a member of the Tiger Paws and was inducted into the National Honor Society.

Outstanding Seniors



Larry Brunson

Larry's enthusiasm and participation was vital to the success of the senior class. He was essential in promoting spirit and led decoration activities. Whenever anyone needed a helping hand, Larry was there. He was involved with music in the marching band and was also a member of the Latin Club and German Club. He used his math abilities to compete in math tournaments and was successful here also. Larry was inducted into the National Honor Society, elected president of the organization his senior year and represented the club on Student Council.

Bruce Frazier

Although Bruce has only been at CHS for a little over a year, he stands out in his class. His interests have centered around choir and he has devoted four years to it. As a senior in the A Capella choir, he reached All-Region and All-Area in the state competition. Nationally, Bruce ranked highly among other students and received the National Merit Letter of Commendation and was also inducted into the National Honor Society.

State and National Winners

Recognition should be given to those students who tried that little bit harder and worked that little bit longer to become tops in their field. Because all competition had not been completed before the publication of the FLARE, possibly some all-state and national finalists do not appear on these pages. But much thanks and praise goes out to all those students who represent Conroe High as the best in their area of competition.

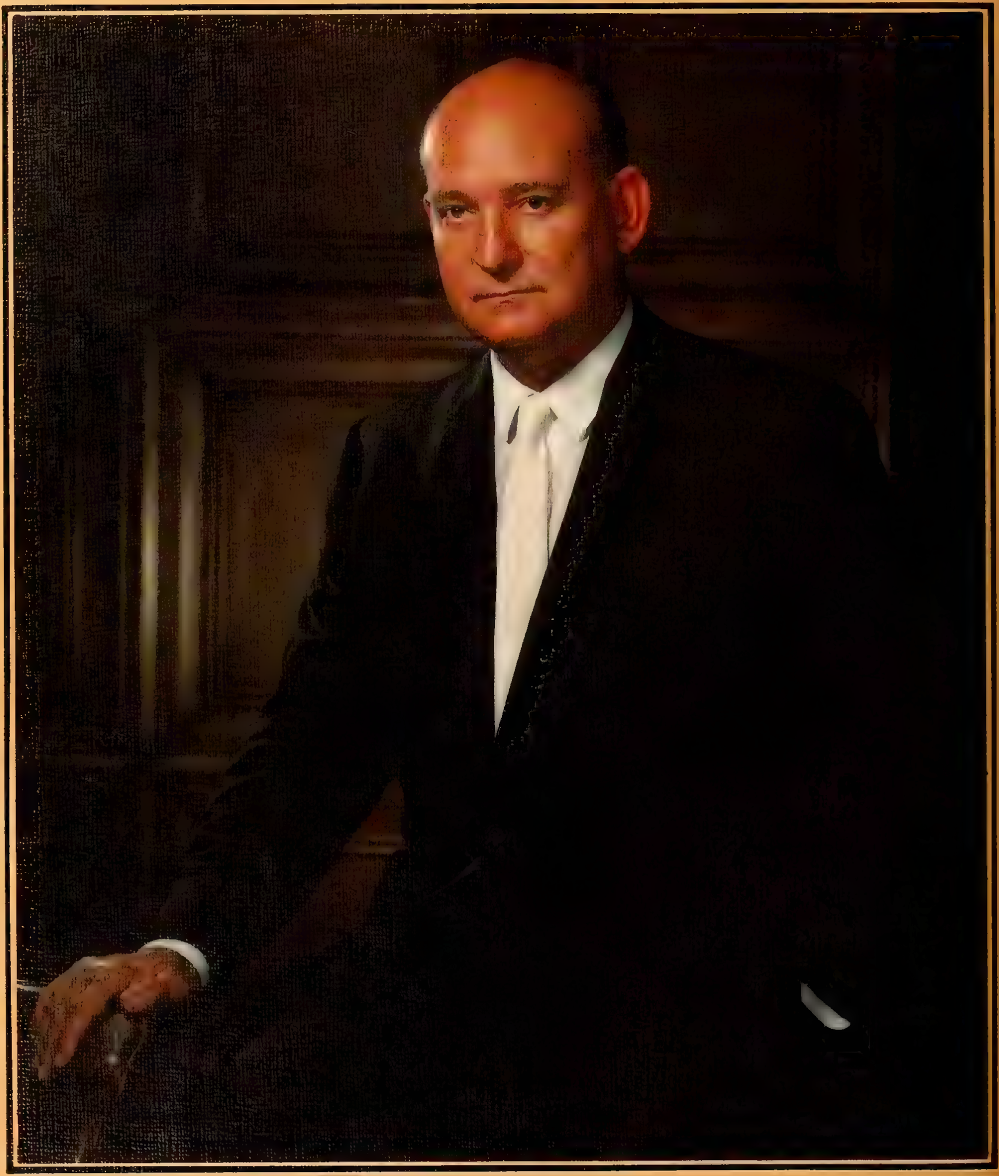
ACADEMICS

The 1978 Flare is Dedicated To:



Mr. J. T. Montgomery

Principal of Conroe High School

Over the past decade of growth and change, Mr. Montgomery, principal of Conroe High School, has held the reins and guided the steps of students in their progress to adulthood.

As principal, Mr. Montgomery has overseen the development of many new programs in this, one of the largest high schools in the United States. Some of these programs include the Vocational School, the offering of advanced courses for accelerated students and the student handbook. In 1976, Mr. Montgomery played an instrumental part in acquiring the Tiger mascot. The students wanted it named "J.T." but Mr. Montgomery insisted that it be given its traditional name of "Mac."

Mr. Montgomery is a strong believer in student activities and takes great pride in the achievements by his kids. There is genuine concern and compassion in the heart of this great man and his friendliness is overwhelming. Mr. Montgomery solves problems by considering what is best for all and the student always comes first in his concerns.

A tremendous amount of thanks goes out to you, Mr. Montgomery, from the faculty and students of your school. Thank you for all the ways you have enriched our lives.

Your Future And Ours

Our young people represent more than just a generation. To us, students mean the future; our hopes for the coming years rest firmly on the shoulders of the young men and women of our community. Whatever will be accomplished in this world in years to come is the responsibility of our youth. Because you are our future. And we support you.

. . . Love when you can
Cry when you have to
Be who you must
That's a part of the plan,
Await your arrival
With simple survival
And one day
We'll all understand . . .
Part of the Plan
— Dan Fogelberg

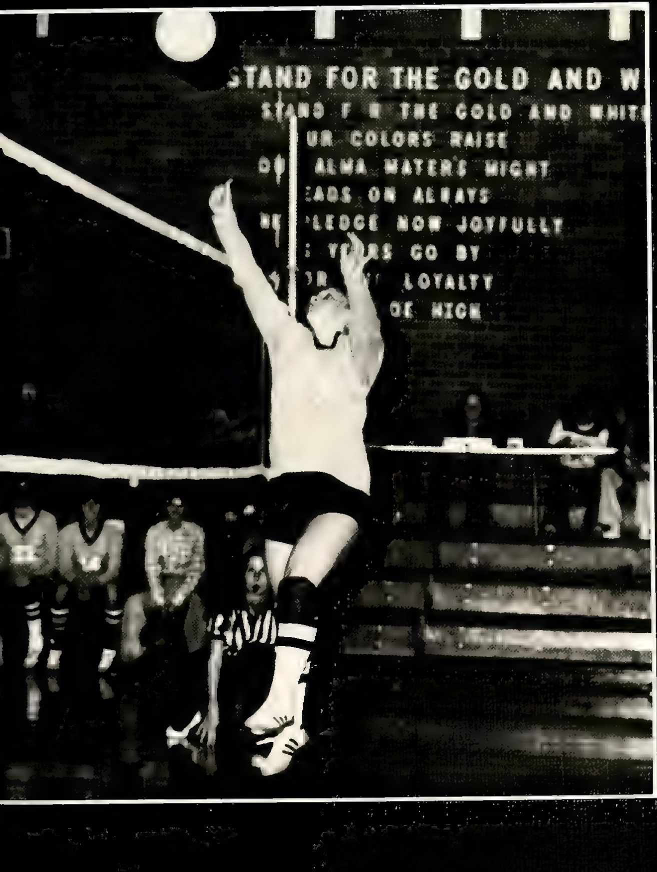
In years to come when you see a torch or flame, really look at it and think of Conroe High. The outer red flame is vibrant and exciting — like yelling at football games, going up to block that net shot, leading a cheer or making a hole-in-one — it is the total life and spirit of CHS.



STAND FOR THE GOLD AND W
STAND F R THE GOLD AND WHITE
UR COLORS RAISE
ALMA MATER'S MIGHT
EADS ON ALWAYS
LEDGE NOW JOYFULLY
YEARS GO BY LOYALTY
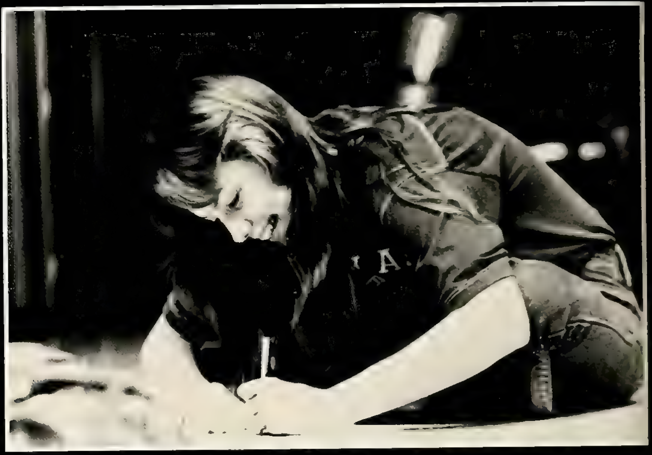
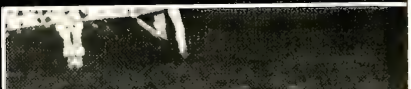
OE HIGH

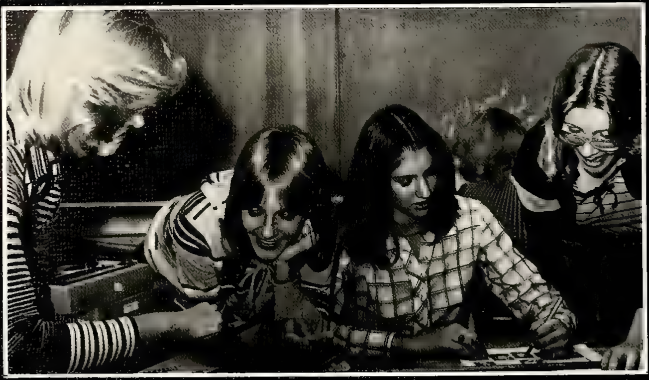
The golden middle of the flame is, in essence, CHS tradition. Gold is warmth, love, everything that has made Conroe High unique. The time and effort so many people put into each endeavor, such as performing an original song or packaging boxes for the needy, reflects the values and traditions of Conroe High.

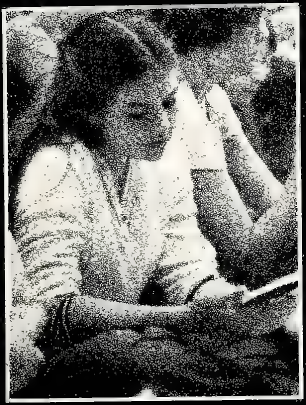


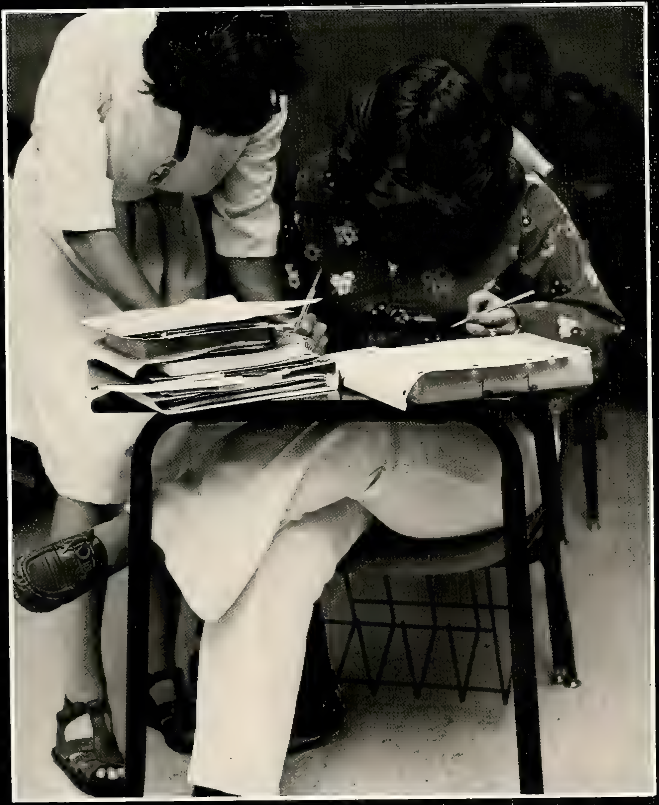


HELP

And always remember the blue inner center of the flame: the brilliant beauty of nature that surrounds us all. In all our activities, whether it be in enjoying the company of friends or in the quiet reflection after a victorious game, beauty abounds. Open your eyes and enjoy all that life has to offer.







As we began our first year at Conroe High, we started searching for our own place in this new phase of our life. Time passes and we learn to take life one day at a time. Taking a look at the people around us, we learn that each person is an individual in himself. Often we reach out to another person, accepting him as a friend and individual as he also accepts us. Each passing year has brought memories and new experiences in the search for ourselves. Sometimes we get depressed and frustrated yet we continue on our search.

As this segment of our lives comes to a close, we see that there is a place in the world for all. We begin to see the individual that we have worked so hard to become. As we leave CHS we continue to search for happiness and friendship, knowing that our years here will have started us on the right path.
